

Local Authority Partnership

Service overview

DataCareers has been a trusted partner within local authority for over twenty years. Over this time we have delivered highly skilled digital and business change professionals across several metropolitan districts, county councils and London boroughs.

What we do

DataCareers work in partnership with local authorities when they seek to modernise or transform their existing Digital infrastructure; acting as a talent partner, providing highly skilled contract resource at scale.

How do we provide a unique service for local authorities?

DataCareers work on a relationship driven model where we work as an extension of the local authority. Unlike traditional agency recruitment our flexible resourcing model allows us to work closely with internal Resource Managers and Talent Teams, to provide a service which is more cost effective in comparison to traditional agency spend.

Previous projects

- ✓ We were the selected partner for a large unitary authority who required ongoing Infrastructure Managed Service professionals. We developed an ongoing talent pool of resource who could be utilised by the authority on a flexible basis, reducing unnecessary spend.
- ✓ We successfully delivered a team of Technical Trainers for a metropolitan district who had recently implemented a new housing management system. Not only did DataCareers supply contract resource but we also promoted the use of knowledge transfer throughout the project to ensure all internal authority staff could effectively utilise the new software once our trainers were no longer at their service.
- ✓ As the selected partner for Civica and the 900 local authorities they support, we have provided, and continue to provide temporary and permanent workforce solutions across the United Kingdom.
